

Driver, 2, Gets Ticket

Two year old Jimmy Gallegos took over the wheel of the family car yesterday and got a traffic tag before he had gone a block.

The ticket, a warning tag, was presented as a souvenir by Policeman Charles Myer, who came up when Jimmy completed his first solo drive by smashing the family automobile into a parked car belonging to Herrera Ines of 653 Capp Street.

Anastacio Gallegos, 28, of 988 Linden Street, South San Francisco, explained his son remained in the car when he left it a moment with motor running, to pay a brief visit to a cousin at 521 Capp Street.

Jimmy had simply put the car in gear. It shot ahead 200 feet. Jimmy was badly frightened and in tears, but uninjured. Damage to the two cars totaled $200.
