

OK for Husband To Watch House

DURHAM, (N.C.), — A Durham woman telephoned police headquarters saying that her husband and another man were out in the yard "watching my house."

After checking the complaint, officers wrote in their report: "We advised her we could not do a thing to her husband for watching his own home and if he wanted someone to help him there was nothing we could do with him either."

Thief Claims It Doesn't Pay

NEW YORK. — (AP) — A woman accused of stealing thousands of dollars over a ten year period from cash registers of stores and hospitals to bet on the horses has this bit of advice for others: "Don't do it. It doesn't pay . . . You can't sleep at night."

Speaking was Mrs. Mary Pado, 46, who gave her address as Hoboken, N. J. She was arrested by detectives yesterday as she was released from a women's prison in Clinton, N. J.
