

Chinese in Russ Auto Factory

LONDON.—Russia is teaching workers from Communist China how to build and assemble automobiles, the Russian news agency Tass reported.

It said 100 Chinese are at the Stalin auto plant in Moscow and when they return to Red China they will supply the first blueprints for Chinese cars.