

1,100 Patents for Thomas Edison

WASHINGTON — Thomas Alva Edison received more patents from the United States Patent Office than any other individual, according to the National Geographic Society.

He received 1,100 patents in all, including patents for his incandescent lamp, the phonograph and motion picture camera.