

Physician Dies During Delivery

FAYETTEVILLE (Ark.).—An assisting physician successfully completed a Caesarean section after Dr. Richard W. Miller, the attending surgeon, died of a heart attack in the operating room. Mother and child are "doing fine."