

Shopper Eases Her Conscience

WAYNESBORO (Va.)—Employees of a store here thought a shopper had lost her pocket-book, but when they opened it a note was attached to a pair of earrings and a necklace, stating that they had been stolen two years before and were being returned. Price tags were still attached—total 59 cents.